1	Clause no.C.6.2.1(iv) of Technical Specifications of NIT	For subsequent years during the contract period, the supplier may continue with the same approved Price List or submit the next Price List (in hard copy duly signed as well as in soft copy) which may include items with alternate part nos., if any. However, no new item shall be included. If a new Price List is submitted, it should be submitted at least 6 months prior to the applicable year of operation of the first equipment commissioned to CIL along with the statement of increase / decrease in item-wise prices from the previous approved price list with proper justification for increase in prices. CIL shall examine the same especially in relation to the increase with the previous year etc. and after its approval, circulate the approved Price List to the concerned subsidiary HQ and mines/projects. The time period for circulation of approved Price List shall be approximately within 3 months after receipt of the new Price List. In case of delay in circulation of the approved Price List, the Supplier may continue to supply the items as per the previous approved Price List in operation but these provisional rates will be regularized subsequently when the approved Price List is circulated by CIL.	The following para may be added in Clause no. C.6.2.1(iv) of Technical Specifications of NIT:- Further, if for the compliance of any statutory, regulatory or environmental regulation or guidelines from DGMS or other institutions / GOI, the new parts for compliance of such regulations may be included in the price list with documentary evidence related to implementation of such guidelines. Otherwise, no new item will be included.
